

Enabler Publications and Training Services

Alan Dearling
45 Haymon's Cove
Eyemouth
Berwickshire, Scotland TD14 5EG

Tel/Fax: 018907 51222
e-mail: adearling@aol.com web: www.enablerpublications.co.uk

New Book information: Published March 2010: 152pps, paperback, over 100 photos and illustrations and dozens of maps covering the area from Alnwick north to Dunbar, and inland to Coldstream and Duns £7.99 (plus £2 p&p) available direct from 'Enabler Publications', or local shops.

'Round Eyemouth – a guide for visitors and locals (isbn: 978-0-9523316-7-4)
Alan Dearling and Oliver Carfrae

The authors say: 'We really love Eyemouth and the surrounding area of the Scottish and English borders. We hope that love and respect for the places and the people is evident throughout this modest volume. Both of us have lived for a combined total of over 30 years on this coast, at various times in Burnmouth, Coldingham and now Eyemouth itself.'

This book is crammed full of maps, history, photos and information about places to walk, cycle and visit. It's aimed at local people as well as visitors.

Alan and Oliver say: 'We hope you find this book useful as a starting point for your own adventures and explorations into a fabulous and lesser-known part of the UK. We have tried to provide brief ideas, information and locations to help you get to know more about the area. There is a mix of detailed potential routes and more generalised information on places to visit and explore. In no way are these meant to be more than suggestions. The best days out are not those where folk are assiduously following a guidebook, but rather evolve through looking around a corner, branching off into a wood, or up another hillside. The area is rich and diverse in natural beauty, well-loved places and viewpoints, his-stories and her-stories, and the lesser known and seldom visited wynds, coves, vennels, ruins and smugglers' paths. It is an area crammed to the gunwales with ancient and current folk-tales, wisdom and half-truths, through to downright 'whoppers', not all of which involve salmon, herring, cod, prawns, contraband or lobsters.'

Contents include: An introduction to access rights in Scotland - Neil Ramsay, Scottish Rights of Way and Access Society (ScotWays); Snapshots of history including description of the fishing industry, the witch burnings, the Eyemouth riot, Black Friday and the Eyemouth Forts; Detailed maps, photos and walks in Eyemouth town; Maps, photos and detailed info on the Berwickshire coastal path from Berwick to Dowlaw (Fast Castle); Coldingham, St Abbs and north of Eyemouth to Dunbar; Inland from Eyemouth including Ayton, Duns, Manderston, Paxton and the Chain Bridge Honey Farm; Berwick and the south including the Holy Island of Lindisfarne, Duddo Five Stones, Flodden Field, Howick Hall, Ford and Etal, Bamburgh, Dunstanburgh and Alnwick, and maps of cycling routes around Eyemouth.

At the end of the day you are your own guide whether you are going walking; playing golf; diving; bird-watching; walking the coastal path; feeding the seals; taking a boat trip; going fishing; steeping yourself in the tales of witch burnings, fishing and battles between Scots and the English; enjoying a fish supper by the harbour; or just enjoying some clean, bracing air while on a quiet amble on Eyemouth's beach.